Detailed Statistics – Year to Year Comparison

Additional information to assist with interpreting and using the statistics below:

- All charts are for the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act [FOIPOP], the Municipal Government Act [MGA], the Privacy Review Officer Act [PRO], and the Personal Health Information Act [PHIA], unless otherwise noted.
- PHIA came into force June 1, 2013.
- The Information and Privacy Commissioner cannot accept privacy complaints or investigate privacy breaches under the MGA.
- In 2015, the OIPC got a case file management system making statistics easier to compile and more accurate.
- We have attempted to organize the charts below to match the format included in the Annual Report (above).
- Unless specified, “public body” refers to all organizations covered by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, the Municipal Government Act, the Privacy Review Officer Act, and the Personal Health Information Act.

³ As reported on our website, which is a summary of the overall conclusions of the Commissioner. Starting in 2017-2018 we started assessing each individual recommendation for reporting in the Annual Report.

⁴ As reported on our website, which is a summary of the overall response from the public body/municipality. Starting in 2017-2018 we started assessing each individual response to each recommendation for reporting in the Annual Report.

⁵ Prior to 2015, it was the OIPC's practice to accept what was provided in time extension requests at face value and approve the extension. An investigation would only be done if an applicant complained. Since 2015 each request has been assessed and it is either approved or not approved based on the information provided in the request. In some cases, the requestor has withdrawn their request for extension prior to a decision being made to approve or not.

⁶ To date, it has been the OIPC's practice to accept what was provided in late transfer requests at face value and approve the extension as it is in the applicant's best interests. An investigation would only be done if an applicant complained.

⁸ Since 2012, we have hired a full-time temporary agency employee to address our staffing needs.
