Best Password Practices

DO's

- Do include uppercase letters, digits and/or symbols in the middle of the password instead of at the beginning and end.
- Do make your password at least 12 characters long; the longer the password is, the stronger it is.
- Do shield your password from potential onlookers ("shoulder surfers").
- Do use a secure password manager to help manage your password or write it down in a safe place if you can't remember it.

DON'Ts

- Don't use variations of your existing passwords; previous passwords may be used to guess your current password.
- Don't base your password on the names of people, pets, things you like (i.e. favourite songs, cars), sports or birthdates.
- Don't use keyboard patterns.
- Don't use common names or phrases (i.e. "iloveyou").
- Don't use the same password on multiple accounts.

These guidelines were adapted from a password research presentation by Carnegie Mellon University Professor Dr. Lorrie Cranor.
