September 28th is International Right to Know Day. Join our panel for a debate on what is and is not working in Nova Scotia's access to information regime. How does Nova Scotia's access to information law measure up? Moderated by Fred Vallance-Jones of the University of King's College, the discussion panel will include David MacKenzie of the NSGEU, Rachel Ward, CBC Reporter and Kevin Lacey, Atlantic Director of the Canadian Taxpayers Federation. Our panelists will provide practical information based on their years of experience using access laws. Refreshments will be served following the lively debate.
